Whats up.

Centerstage

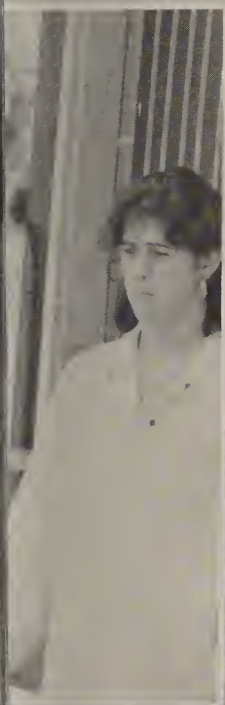

San Diego High School is definitely Centerstage in San Diego. What other high school is located in the center of the city, so near the downtown attractions of Horton Plaza, Balboa Park, the Zoo, and Seaport Village? Lynn Stephens, a senior at San Diego High, says "I love being so close to these places! We don't always appreciate it, but we're really lucky."

Not only is San Diego High centrally located, but with the addition of the International Baccalaureate and Writing Academy to the existing programs, San Diego High is taking centerstage as an academic institution too!

1. Quang Chau watches the action in the quad while eating lunch.
2. Louie Arresta and Maria Aragon stop long enough to pose for the camera.
3. A waterlily graces the San Diego High fountain.
4. David Farrell and Raquel Camberos eat lemons while Jennifer Boyle, Kamal Anthony, Anelle Kuethe and Tony Farrell look on during the lemon eating contest.
5. Rick Lopez, Kendall Robb and Ingri Quon take time out at Horton Plaza.
6. Jason Folkman finds humor in one of his classes.

1. Michelle Richards, captain of the Varsity Cheerleading Squad, shows off her winning smile.
2. Selling Senior sweatshirts was how Dawn Jones, Shannon Diefenderffer and Anita Bassani spent a few of their lunchtimes.
3. Annabelle Bedoya takes a moment to touch up her makeup in class.
4. Marc Davis, record holding Cross Country star of San Diego High, displays his sense of humor.
5. Cristine Sison and Matt McDonald find that making book covers can be fun.

Unstage 87

The International Baccalaureate program was in its second year at San Diego High. It flourished well; this year was the first in which many students tried (and hopefully succeeded!) in earning IB diplomas, which are internationally recognized.

1. Chanara Mizei shows her appreciation of Ms. McSwann's 4th period IB English class. 2. Corey Todnem is given a Merit Award by IB Coordinator Kathy McKee, as Dr. Amparan looks on. 3. Students in one of Mr. Icardo's classes learn about knowledge

I.B.

The center of literary creativity for a great number of students in classes across the curriculum, the writing center gave students a chance to exchange ideas with peers, teachers, and some successful writers in the "real world." Students have been published in the San Diego Tribune, the L.A. Times, Centre City News, and campus publications such as City Alive! magazine and The Write Stuff.

1. Alberta Wilson, Martha Castro and Noel Benjamin edit writing assignments. 2. The writers' workshop listens attentively to Ms. Allen. 3. Ms. Allen dramatizes the directions to a writer's project.

Being so conveniently located, what Caver has never sojourned off-campus for lunch, a field trip, or just to avoid an ill-timed test? Especially with the completion of Horton Plaza, 1987 has seen numerous Cavers spending time south of Gray Castle.

1. Alberta Wilson, Noel Benjamin, John Dunn and Erika Braash from Ms. Allen's writing class interviewing "characters" downtown. 2. Jeremy Isham, James Backer, Andy Swindel, Karma Wallace, Alex Hughes relax at City College for lunch. 3. Rick Lopez and Tom Gamboa have discovered a sale at Horton Plaza. 4. Nicole Williams and John Fredericks enjoy MacDonald's shakes. 5. 2nd row: Tina Colovic, Felicia Reyes, Jeana Chammas; 1st row: Tom Gamboa, Rich Lopez, Hoa Tran, Ingri Quon, Kendall Robb and Latisha Scott ride the escalator at Horton Plaza. 6. Tina Colovic poses with the Banana Republic jeep.

Learning how to be creative and express oneself artistically were some of the goals of the Fine Arts classes which included choir, drama, band and art. Teachers Mr. Brown, Mrs. McMillen and Ms. Carr worked hard in their respective arts to encourage each student's artistic growth in these areas.

One such student, Dan Golden, found that the Drawing and Painting class, taught by Mrs. McMillen, was essential in helping him develop his artistic skills. Dan was also on the yearbook staff, and was able to expand his creativity as a copywriter as well.

Consumer and Family Studies helped the students at SDHS prepare for the future. Classes such as foods and clothing prepared students for when they would be on their own. "Sewing class has helped me become a better consumer. From it, I learned how things are put together" said Elina Hui.

Special Needs Classes were designed for students who needed to improve their study skills. Students learned to read for comprehension, and learned better test, note and paper writing skills. Classes in such areas as Reading Improvement, and Resource Classes were available to students. Teachers like Mr. McClees and Mrs. Whitley were always willing to help students.

ROTC was a class which taught students the many facets of the military. Such things as map reading, leadership training, and army history were taught. "ROTC teaches cadets discipline, responsibility, and pride in one's self and country", said Cecilia Iniguez, Battalion Commander.

ROTC cadets had two days of class, two days of physical training, and every Wednesday, they dressed in their uniforms. They marched, had drills, and ran.

Every year, a cadet is singled out to go to a water damage control training. This year, Tom Crawford was chosen. Another special activity for the ROTC was a military ball that was held at Camp Pendleton.

Varsity

"STRONGER TOGETHER" was the motto as the San Diego High Varsity Football team hit the grid. Although it was not a winning season, when the Cavers played at Marian, Carson, Kegler, and Borquez were the top scorers that led to a 47-19 win. When the Mission Bay Bucks came to play, the Cavers locked them out in a 14-0 win. In that game, Carson ran 85 yards. The defense line, led by Boyle, Williams, and Gonzalez, was applauded by many as "very coordinated". Despite the remaining 8 losses, the team kept their winning attitude.

The varsity volleyball team had a lot of high hopes. They were full of confidence, spirit and drive. It was a team with a considerable amount of talent and potential. They had the mental strength and determination that is needed to overcome the pressure during a volleyball game.

"It's really important to keep your head in the game. You need to concentrate at all times," said Patricia Delgallego, the team captain.

"I think this season will hold a lot for us," Jennifer Knott, a returning varsity player, said. "We'll gain a lot of experience and hopefully have a winning season in the process."

The junior varsity girl's volleyball team were eager for a win. They were always on their toes, serious and intense as they ended their season with a winning record of five and two, one of San Diego's best.

Motivated by the spirited Caver fans and the first female player ever, the team took second in their league.

Mia Labovitz, who was the team's place kicker said, "Everybody was very supportive of me. The team needed a place kicker, and the coach had seen me kicking the ball around during the summer, so he came to me and asked me to play."

As Frank Gray said, "We were a good team, but we would have been better if players would have played together as a team and not as individuals." Although that problem stood in their way at times, they pulled off winning one of their most important games, Homecoming. They ended the season with a winning record of 3 out of 5 league game wins.

Team work seemed to be the basis for the Girls Tennis Team, "We worked together well," said Tracy Pelletier. Another key factor for the tennis team was spirit, "We have a spirited team. Everyone had fun and we were supportive of each other," said Shawn Covell, who along with Tracy Pelletier, took first place for doubles in the Central League Tournament. Also in the C.L.T. Maritess Elazegui and Mimi Thauag placed third in doubles, while Suong Pham took second in singles.

In their own league, the Girls Tennis Team ranked second, "The best we've done in years," said Shawn Covell. Everyone on the team was happy with the outcome of the season.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Boys Cross Country had a very successful season and rounded it off being Central League Champs with statistics of 5-0.

The Boys Cross Country team also placed second out of 18 schools in the City Conference Finals at Morley Field.

It was a banner year for SDHS's

Cross Country and the whole school is proud of them.

Practice made perfect for the girls' Cross Country team. The team had various training methods for league meets, which were every week. The team ran to Seaport Village, Balboa Park, and the airport.

Cheerleaders are an important part of any sports team's spirit. The Varsity Cheerleading Squad worked very hard to improve themselves, and thus bring Caver spirit to the school. Captain Michelle Richards said, "We do aerobics, push-ups and pyramids to prepare for cheers." She added, "This is the first time we have gone to the National Cheerleading Association Regional Competition, and we placed third in our division."

Some of the girls attended a cheerleading camp in Santa Barbara to improve their skills. Nicole Martin, who has been on the team for two years felt that the camp was helpful, but she also included that "You have to be willing to give it your all, and work hard if you want to be a good cheerleader."

Both Michelle and Nicole felt that all the hard work payed off with a successful cheerleading season.

ASB

The ASB took under the responsibility of making the school organized, and "to give the students something to be proud of" as ASB president, Tony Farrell said. The ASB was responsible for most of the dances and activities at school, which included the lunch time competitions and the ASB ball. Their main goal was to accomplish a feeling of school spirit in the students.

Sophomores

The Sophomore Class, although new to SDHS, had planned big things for their stay. "We want to get sophomores interested in school, and have spirit," said president Michelle Flowerdew. Vice-president Lee Carter, added, "We want to make both the sophomore class and the school strong."

Row 1; Raylene Sober, Lee Carter-v. pres., Michelle Flowerdew-pres., Row 2; Esteban Gutierrez, Mr. Leonard-advisor, Susan King.

Band

The band strived for improvement, and coordination as a team. The band played often, in events such as; school sport functions, and even off campus, on invitation. The highlight of the year for the band was a performance at the "Hotel Del Coronado." Band officer Nikki Moncrief explained that, "the band functioned as more than just the band, it functions as a unit" she continued, "the main factor for the band is coordination as a team. The band finds it important to progress as much as possible over the years."

Rondalla

The Rondalla serenaded the teachers, administrators, and parents. They performed in Old Town, Balboa Park, and other schools as a part of their activities. "We also performed at amusement parks and concerts at San Diego High School", said club president, Tony Contreras.

The biggest event for the group was Mothers Day, when they performed from 11pm non-stop until 7:30am. The main goal of the group was to entertain people, while maintaining a bi-cultural heritage.

Choir

The Choir worked at sounding the best that they could with such a small number of members. The group performed at the Homecoming pep-rally, at concerts, at other schools, and also at the Class of '36 reunion. Lakucha Zimmerman felt that "Friendship was important to our group and of course the music."

The Theatrical Knights are San Diego High's one and only acting troupe. One of their biggest productions of the year was the Arthur Miller classic, "Death of a Salesman", which starred the Knights president, James Nelson. Fellow actor and student director Christian Lancaster noted that, "probably the single most important factor of the theatrical knights is the respect shared among its members, it enables us to make shows worth while." The plans put on by the company were received warmly by San Diego High School students. In addition, Christian seemed to speak for the entire troupe when saying, "I have learned a great deal from the Theatrical Knights; comradery as well as competition. I will always think of it fondly."

Journalism

The Journalism Club began anew, with a new outlook, and new advisor, in hope of presenting a polished newspaper. The Class worked hard to set up a structure for the paper, and maintain an organized working schedule throughout the year. Journalism editor, Yvette Urrea said, "with each paper we attempted to represent a balance of viewpoints while covering a variety of student events." Yvette Urrea explained everybody's feelings concerning the publication when saying, "overall, we have been extremely pleased with the product of our work."

Row 1: Steffan Tubbs, Ms. Webb, Jessica Fitzpatrick, Yvette Urrea. Row 2: Maria Bittinger, Maymi Mitchell, Megan Mc Carthy, Lara Anderson.

Writers

The Writers Club is a group of students who work on improving their writing styles, and therefore, hopefully get published. Previously, students involved in the club have had writings published in the L.A. Times and The San Diego Union. Writer Robert Neumeyer said, "another purpose of the club is to have the writers feel proud and comfortable with their work so, that they can present it in front of an audience." The club had plans of visiting The Union Tribune with advisor Ms. Whitley, in order to learn more about journalism. The Writers Club also helped others with their essays, poems, short stories, novels and any other writing projects. The club was immersed in writing, and therefore helped improve the styles of all its members.

History club

The History Club has consistently been the most active club on campus. It was designed to provide an educational experience for students and a scholarship for seniors. Selling doughnuts and having candy sales were just two of the ways the club raised money. The History Club participated in many activities. The club traveled on a trip to U.C.L.A., but the biggest trip planned was one which would take the club up the coast to San Francisco. The club was also involved with a student exchange with the San Francisco high school. The History Club truly stood out as both a productive and active club.

Close up

Close-up was one of the new clubs to San Diego High School. It centered around the plans to travel to nations capitals and get an in depth look at how the government functions. Club advisor, Steve Bickley described what was important to the club, "having fun, but at the same time meeting top government officials as well as students from around the nation." To pay for the trip, the club held newspaper drives, writing to alumni, donations from bankers, and working concessions. As a result of the hard work, the club was able to have the "miracle trip" they desired.

Row 1; Steffan Tubbs, Heidi Hart, Mashariki Kudumu. Row 2; David Baker, Mr. Bickley, Daniel Chang.

Latin

The Latin Club strived to promote an interest in classical Roman culture. The club participated in cultural affairs and in a national Latin exam, where many of the students won awards. To raise funds, the club worked on city improvement plans and mural paintings. In commenting on the group Heidi Seagrim said, "venimus, vidimus, vicimus."

Row 1; Rebecca Needham, Tashia Smith, Chris Bjork, Pat Livingston, Quyen Vo, Coug Corley. Row 2; William Borg, Genie Holmes, Adriana Gonzalez, Gabby Rico, Peter Smith, Ms. Gault.

French

The purpose of the French Club was to immerse its members in every aspect of the French culture. The club received visitors and speakers who helped the students to further understand France's unique language and culture. A French singer also came to perform for the club. In addition the club watched French plays. The main goal for the group was to raise money for a four week trip to France. Club member, Susan King said, "the French Club is always looking for new and interesting members to join in the cultural adventure of French speaking countries, including the most mysterious and interesting, France."

Mr. Leonard, Susan King

Latino-Mecha

Club Latino and the Mecha Club joined and formed one club. The purpose of the club is to help Latin people unite so they can become better people in and out of school. The club raises money by sponsoring trips to different places, they then give the money to members of the club for scholarships.

DECA

The Deca Club worked to further develop education in marketing and distribution. Promoting understanding of and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in the competitive enterprise system.

The club raised money by having candy sales and spent it on essentials for the many trips they took.

Club President, Jaquie Potter said, "our club is academic and social."

The club went to such events as an officers training camp and to a mini conference at the Veterans War Memorial Building.

The main goal of Deca Club was to eventually go to national competition in New Orleans.

ASB activities

Licorice eating, scavenger hunt, feed the jelly bean, name that tune, and bobbing for apples were just a few of the many events sponsored by San Diego's ASB. These contests were held during lunch on Wednesdays in the Quad. On Fridays, different DJ's would play for the students on campus.

The ASB's biggest event was the ASB Ball, held at the Cafe De Rey Moro on February 27th.

The ASB worked to instill school spirit and give the students interesting activities and contests to participate in.

Attraction

It was a year of creativity, fun, and DEADLINES for SKHS's yearbook staff. The staff worked in groups, and strived to meet the weekly deadlines. Each grup consisted of two layout persons, one photographer, one copywriter, and an editor.

Yearbook advisor, Mrs. McMillen, stood by and gave the push and determination to get the book done. It took a lot of hard work, and some staff members put in extra hours after school and on weekends to meet the deadlines. The end result was a yearbook to be proud of!

Working For a Better Tomorrow

San Diego High had two on campus substitutes, Paula Jean Loman and Ralph Adloff. Both teachers were classified as AGP (achievement goals program) substitutes. Ms. Loman had been at San Diego High for 2 years, and also taught high school art.

Mr. Adloff, known as Mr. A to his students, will be remembered for his, "No talking. No passes. No eating." policy.

1. Ms. Loman pauses while doing grades, to smile at the camera.
2. Mr. Adloff helps Lydia Morales with an assignment.

For sophomores, it was never too early to begin looking for a future career, or an after school job. The Career Center, headed by Mrs. Cloud, helped sophomores, juniors, and seniors look for jobs and explore careers. Seminars on how to fill out a job application, how to go to a job interview and various other topics were offered to students.

1. Mrs. Cloud helps students plan careers.

BASKETBALL

The girls varsity basketball team strived to reach high goals through hard work. "Confidence in each other was just one of the reasons for the teams hard work", said team member Thelma Sanders. Continuing she explained another reason for the hard work, "our team effort is very good because we always play as a team, that way it is very easy when we're on the court." The high goals expressed were to win all league games, and to go to the C.I.F. tournament. Thelma Sanders finally justified the teams reasons for setting such high goals, "We want to bring pride to San Diego High!"

The Varsity Basketball team worked on improving skills and keeping control during game play. Guard, Leonard Woods said, "we will beat a lot more teams after we work on our ball control some more." The team welcomed a new coach, Dennis Kane, to the sports staff this season. Spurred by the new blood, the team had goals of going to the C.I.F. championship and raising enough money to have their own locker room. The team took pride in its improvements during the season.

Soccer is an international sport, and one of the biggest at San Diego High. The team rotates their players so they will not be easily found by the opponent. The team has showed a great deal of enthusiasm. "I've improved as a player because of the coaching. We've met some tough competition but we've beat them," said Joel Valdovinos. Manuel Rodriguez was known as a high point scorer, but overall the whole team managed to have several games which ended with high scores.

Girl's Soccer is a sport that is rising in popularity. The teams practices are two hours a day and consist of mile runs and drills. The game is very fast paced and suspensful. Team captain Paige Folkman said, "The team definitely has a winning attitude and is veered towards winning."

1. Hugo Mesa waits for the ball to come. 2. Jorge Guizar races to the ball. 3. Andy Levine attempts to block. 4. Dolores Mendoza prevents the opponents from scoring. 5. Carlye Stein battles opponents for the ball. 6. Mia Labovitz attempts to score.

The track team was small, but all of the participants put out their top effort, competing in the maximum number of events allowed, which was four. Most even commented that they would have done more events if they had been allowed.

There were several areas where the team excelled especially. One was in long distance running; Marc Davis and John Garrett being a great asset to the team. In pole vaulting, Brian Monroe took first place in the Tri-meet against University City and Pt. Loma schools.

One of the disadvantages of the season was that the team didn't have home games. The stadium track was being renovated, and it was not possible to compete on "home turf."

Only the dedicated best kept with the track team. Commented J.V. track member Joe Lindsay, "The people who come to the track practice are people who really want to be there. They know that nothing comes easy and so they push themselves to work hard."

1. Jill Wagner puts great effort into throwing the shotput. 2. Track members Mia Labovitz and Olga Rivera take first and second place at a meet. 3. Cheryl Boyd awaits the mark. 4. As a judge watches, Joel Gattley attempts a high jump. 5. Charles Meshack tries to catch up with an opposing runner.

R1: Joe Deno, Mike Hall, Jose Espinoza, Coach Lopez, Mel Diaz, Tony Farrell, Jose Espinoza R2: Tina McNally, Armando Ramirez, Brian Baird, David Rex, Andy Swindall, Bill Pollack, Edgar Perulta, Sean Tucker, Felipe Audios

"The key to Caver varsity baseball is the pitching," commented player Bill Pollack, some of which was demonstrated by pitchers such as Sean Tucker and Armando Ramirez. Another key factor in the Caver's success was coach Tom Lopez. Respect for him and his playing methods was evident. "He's the only coach I know to turn a zero and ten team around in one year," said Joey Heidecker.

With such practice methods as running, infield and outfield practice, as well as the other key factors, Caver baseball was sure to make a repeat performance of last year's Central League Championship.

1. Joe Deno keeps watch over the base.
2. Brian Baird is in a ready position.

Girls' varsity softball was slowly on the road to success. This past season saw the team with a new coach, Coach Kane. Respect, combined with fear helped the team to grow. "Coach Kane scares us into playing!" joked varsity player Suzi McDonnell. "He really motivates us. I think that we are a better team because of him."

Varsity pitcher Mara Copley felt that because of the new coach the girls had a higher moral and were playing better softball. They tried not to make as many mental errors as in past seasons.

Row 4: Mr. Adair, Mary Crengan, Brain Stout, Bobby smith, Rich Sheehan, Marco Quinoues, James Reges, Ray Serafin, Said Norooz, Coach Hembera, Felicia Reyes.

"We had a lot of heart, and it showed at the end of the season" was how team member Tony Farrell felt about San Diego High School's wrestling team.

Leading the team were David Price, Mike Hall, Jose Valdez, Matt Burnes, Felix Calero, Marcus Williams, and Tony Farrell, who said, "The caver wrestling team owes much of their success to Coach Steve Hembera and Coach Les Adair. They instilled a real sense of pride to each member."

Although the team was not expected to finish higher than fourth place, through determination then made it down to their last match against Hoover, before being defeated for the League Championship.

1. Wrestler Said Norooz holds down his opponenet.
2. Felix Calero barely sweats as he executes the winning move.

The badminton team proved their power on the courts by playing strong and going for the win. Team member Bunry Vor said, "All the team members get along well, and when we put our minds to it, we can win."

The badminton team practiced by drilling, which consists of clearing, dropping and re-dropping. Long hours of running were also utilized to keep up stamina.

"In swimming, you use muscles you have never used before, ones you didn't even think you had!", said team member Piper Knight.

The swim team practiced at the Boys' Club in Logan Heights, doing up to 3700 yards in one afternoon. The team usually started with a 500 meter warm-up, followed by sprints.

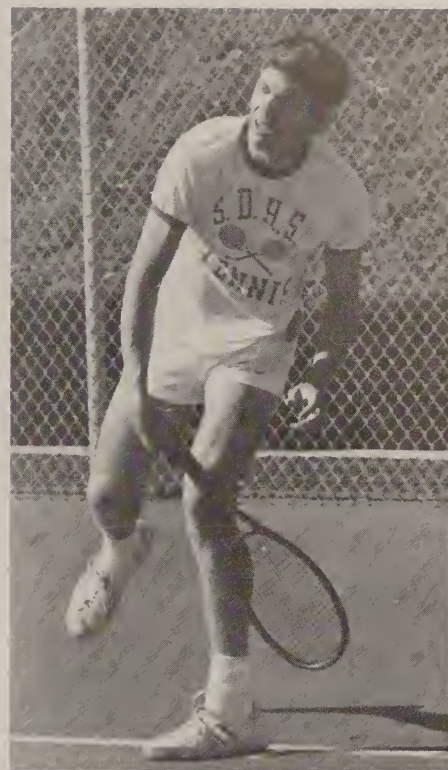

Captain Lisa Akiyama said, "We have fun practicing. The team is doing well and we get along." Colin Evans, another swimmer felt that "We have a good chance of winning meets and sending swimmers to C.I.F."

The boys' tennis team had a positive outlook on the season. They diligently practiced from 2:40 to 4:00 P.M. They rallied, vollied, stretched and played practice sets to prepare for competition.

The team was confident because of their no losses pre-season record. Commented team member Afshen Maleki, "I think we will do good this year, we have many good players."

Some of the strong competitors of the team were Trout Rogers, Evan Nichols, Afshen Maleki and Alan Johnson.

1. Evan Nichols uses his strength and skill to slam the ball over the net.
2. Afshen Maleki makes a fast comeback.
3. Alan Johnson springs to return the ball.

BOYS' TENNIS

It's a Wrap!

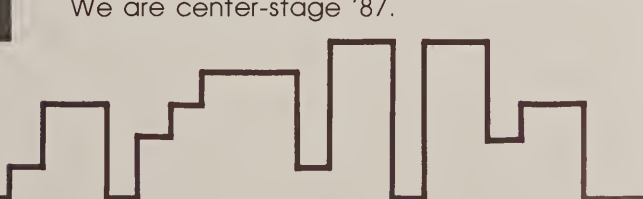

As the lights dim on centerstage '87, we think of the "performances" of the past year. We remember the thrills, disappointments, pressures and good times shared by all. The sophomores, juniors and seniors all participated in lunchtime competitions which built school spirit.

We know there is no turning back. But we accept that and look toward the future. Sophomores and juniors began to plan their futures with the help of their counselors, while taking their PSAT's. Meanwhile, seniors took their SAT's, anxiously awaited acceptance from colleges and planned their future careers. Jill Wagner, senior class president, remarked, "I'm scared to leave such a happy place, but look forward to my new life." Shawn Covell, vice president, adds, "I've been through a lot at this school. I've had some great times, and have a lot of memories. Although it will be hard to leave, it's time for change. It's time to grow up."

We also remember the trends of the year 1986-87. Corona t-shirts, Reeboks, FILA's, Guess jeans, white fringe boots, swatch watches, Maui and Sons t-shirts.

The different clubs at SDHS took part in certain trips such as the Close-Up club's trip to Washington, D.C. and the senior class' planned trip to Mazatlan.

All students will treasure their memories of the year, hoping that the friendships made will last a lifetime. We go on toward our future goals with an optimistic outlook and determination to succeed. We are center-stage '87.

Trends

From head to toe students tried to look their studly best. Current trends included everything from ratted hair to Swatch watches to Reeboks. Other popular fashion statements included Guess, fringe boots, Ray-bans, Levi's 501, and jeans jackets. Of course there were some who considered themselves above wearing trendy things like Guess, ("a rip-off"), those who called Swatches "boppish" and jeans jackets a "neo-hippy statement." However this didn't stop many rear ends from proudly displaying the small Guess triangle or wrists from being weighted down with colorful funny-faced Swatches. Human faces were also seen hiding their eyes behind Ray-bans to shield themselves against teacher's glares and flourescent lighting.

In Memory Of Tierra Rochelle Easter

Daughter of Tasha Johnson

She brought a smile to everyone's face
what a precious little thing
Her cute way of running around won't be erased and when you held her she had special cling.
It didn't take long to get to know her if your arms were open wide it seemed "Mommy" was her favorite word ...
So young and so free, too young to say goodbye
but there's nothing we can do now except for answer the question, why?
Our hearts are with you and you'll always be thought of,
because you brought laughter to so many lives,
you'll forever be my little friend, Tierra ...
By: Lisa Nielsen
January 87"

From the students, staff and friends of the S.A.P.I.D. parenting program.

Dear José,

It's so hard to believe you're gone. You were a good friend, you left us with so many memories. We, all your friends, wanted you to know we loved you, and always will. We will always remember your smile. It's going to be hard without you around. We, your friends, care about you. So please, wherever you are, take care of yourself. But remember: JOSE WE  YOU!

Love always,
Your friends at San Diego High '87

-Ronald Entzminger
Feb. 16, 1987

I NEED YOUR SMILE ...

Reality is what it's about
But it still feels like a nightmare
I'm in a whirlpool of confusion with no way out ...

The best always seem to go first
This Valentine's Day had to have been
The worst ...

Please wake up was all I could say
My heart feels frozen
I'm in a state of delay ...

I can't believe how much hurt I feel
I still can't believe it, I wish it Wasn't real ...

A smile every day from you wasn't
Too much to expect
You were one hell of an easy person
To accept ...

I need your smile just to make it through Even if it's just for a little while José, we all love you ...

- Lisa Nielsen

The PTA played an important role in making San Diego High a school worth attending.

The PTA held a back-to-school luncheon for both teachers and alumni. The group sponsored dances, open house, concessions at games, manned the snack bar after school, planned grad night, organized teacher appreciation day, cap testing and school registration.

Essentially, the PTA was involved in every aspect of school life. The pictures here are of PTA-sponsored events.

Call Me Ishmael.

Well buds, this is it. Lynette-Winnifred, lalways wanted to be your best friend, where we were you these 3 years? Kristin-Tuesday; nights at Pasta. FF-take care! Jilly-Willy- your last name is Covell. "True blue" describes you. Trace-you're special. Friday nights will never be the same. Kristy-flowers, greek letters, S.V., & notes in Asakawa's. I'm going to grow up to be like you. Schlesh- bagels! Webski and Tempe- I respect you both (hee hee) C.J.- let your hair down! Burnett-Ratliff- #$$$*c*c&$$%$ — okay? I will miss you

S.G.

Buddy buddy best friends! Lynette since? Thank you for JC. Shawny girl my VP and best friend! You've got understated elegance. Kristy I love you as a person, I admire your talents, I wish you everything. KEB you're not ugly! A bum maybe. I forever thank you for ... Tracey what exactly are you? A party animal? Definite! My dreams have come true thanks to all of you. To SDHS my sincere love and gratitude. Tempy my friend. Webb my inspiration. VK thanks from Ike. Age you're the meaning ... Jilly Willy love you!

Tr: As long as I'm down ... Max Factor, Mexico at Shawn's, moderation, mexicali, river rafting, ranch at the cross at night in May. Jill, keep up the arm. Shawn, let's do cookies some day? And contemplate Eternity. Queen and the Soldier. Lynt-forever and always chick. chick. Be Smile. My brown Hawaii envelope. Earth worm farms. Spies. Always ariate your milk so I won't worry. KEH

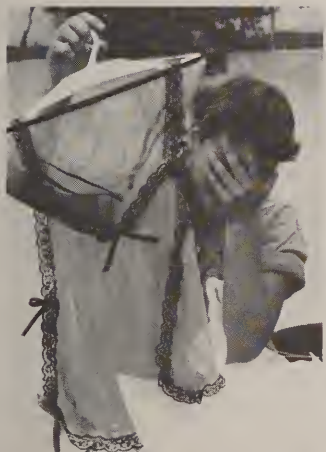

You chicas have meant so much to me. I feel as if I've known you since birth. We've had some interesting times together. Friday's at Shawn's. "The Flea in Her Ear" with Kristy. Kristin ... well, Kristin. Just kidding (maybe). Our great (ha, ha) tennis part nership, (hee, hee). Spanish with Lynette, or whatever language that was. Campbell, a credit to the taeching profession. At least we can change a diaper! Jill that Bitchin' Bob party. Well babe (Shawn) what can I say, B—! What Haven't we done together ... well. All the things we've shared (sigh). You babe you. Weird how good it is. "Hay kin burn." Faulkner lives! V.K. I'm gonna miss you. T.P.

The Good, The Bad And The Ugly

Shawn for World Peace

Trace-Proud to say I was first of group to get to know you. Huey-Louie-Dewey- Shake it! I like your style.

Krist-Perly Plumcake lives on. Band "Another weirdo!" Ray + Grace. It should have been.

Jilly-Willy-Did we ever think it would be this way? You and me since 3rd grade. You and me always. K?

Kristin-Our blonde. Mornings with Turner. What a cutie! Grant School alumni! Class of '81!

Shawnda-Alex? Jr. Prom. Helder. Problems keep us close. BE A DANCER!!

You guys have meant so much to me! We've done it all! The last three years have been the best! Whalew atching with Ahab ... tennis with Jilly, Shawny and Tracey (my partner forever, ha!) ... "Pasta" with Shawny, Kirk, and Blaine! (Gelato!) Brian (bum) your friendshio means more than I can ever say!
Love, Ugly.

My teachers have made San Diego High so much more special: Ameboid Floyd, Curly, Murph, Banta, Webbbski, Tempy, and Bernie a.k.a. Ahab a.k.a. Ratliff ... I love you! It's time to say good-bye, but I will always love and remember San Diego High and my friends, I love you all! Kristin

WATCHING WAVES

SENIORS

Changing, dancing, leaping, creeping from old life to new, wondering what I think of you, unseen dreams, and newfound schemes, 5 lives enmeshed, embroiled enhanced at last and suddenly heart snagged, held fast, no turning back, no letting go, too late to run to soon to know, if all is well yet time will tell.

Dear Reader:

This is merely a spill of me
and should not be looked at as the complete persona.
For all you know is what I tell you and that in itself may not be reality.
Take it as you wish, for it is mere entertainment and in no way has to be accepted as me.

Peace!

I Have Longed To Move Away

I have longed to move away
From the hissing of the spent lie
And the old terrors' continual cry
Growing more terrible as the day
Goes over the hill into the deep sea;
I have longed to move away
From the repetition of salutes,
From there are ghosts in the air
And ghostly echoes on paper,
And the thunder of calls and notes.

I have longed to move away but am afraid;
Some life, yet unspent, might explode
Out of the old lie burning on the ground,
And, crackling into the air, leave me half-blind.
Neither by night's ancient fear,
The parting of hat from hair,
Pursed lips at the receiver,
Shall I fall to death's feather.
By these I would not care to die,
Half convention and half lie.

Dylan Thomas

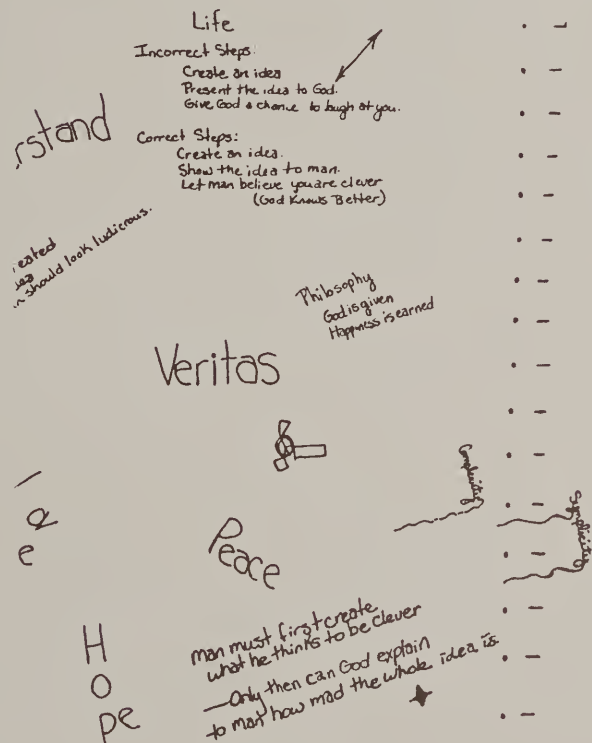

My First Love Once Said:
No matter where our Lives lead I would
Very Much like you to Know this: You are
A beautiful, warm, fun lady.
Your love and friendship
Are down to earth and I cherished them. You might,
Say "Good As Gold." Please
Be with me in spirit when It's not possible to be near
You. You will have my love
And friendship forever!!

Mold what you think to be true
-after all-
it will soon disfigure.

They promised her Sanctum
-death was only seen.

She passed the river
Where the pall bearer stood.
Olive branches laced her tightly,
As she walked,
Along the rows of cypress.

I clutched her hand,
She held on mine.
But now it is time.
We must move on.
She must leave me to learn,
And I must erode into life.

Bill,
You've been such a great friend for such a long time. I hope you never change cause you're such a nice guy.
Don't ever change and remember
I'll always be your friend.

Love,
Claudia Guerra

Bill, I'm ~~almost~~ glad
I got a chance to meet
you. I would've liked you even more if you weren't such a jackass.
But I guess you'll never change. Have fun in the summer. You have to give me your phone # so
I can invite you to me &
El DeBarge's wedding
etc.

Love, James

Bill,

I'm glad I got to know you better this year. You're a really nice guy and funny too. English class would be boring without you. Thanks for helping or being a partner's for activities in Mrs. Muhammad's class. We'll have a great summer.

Love,

Claudia

Bill,

I'm glad I got the chance to meet you, even if you invite me to parties that you never have. Anyway have a good summer and I'll see you next year. Maybe I'll invite you to one of my parties! Don't hold your breath!!!

Phrych

Love,
Hayden J. Joken

Save for "Claudia"

Bill,
 I'm really glad I met you this year. We don't know each other very well but you've been a real "sweet heart"! Have a terrific summer! Good luck in the coming years! Stay cute & take care of yourself & God Bless.

Billy:
Good Luck
with the cover.
Kick some ass next year. TELL ME SOMETHING
Mike dad

Bill,

Heey!

My Babe! you a real trip.
and boy was it fun having you in Lopez's class, well at least for a little while. you pretty ^{keep} touch sweet heart, or else. Oh. Well we gotta party together sometime. Oh I like your silver chain you going to steal it. Trick. I'll come visit you and say Hi ^{to} you. love ya
